

BUILD EXPO GREECE 2024

THE EXHIBITION THAT BUILDS SUCCESS!

Build Expo Greece, the largest and most specialised exhibition for the construction and building sector in Southeast Europe, is once again alongside professionals. On 17-20 of October, 2024, at Metropolitan Expo, in Athens, Greece, the exhibition will become the meeting point for the entire market, being the industry event of the year.

With the participation of exhibitors and the interest of domestic and international buyers already surpassing the expectations inspired by last year's successful event, this year's exhibition is growing even larger in size. For this reason, the organising company has dedicated three halls for the exhibition, enhancing the experience and the opportunities for exhibitors and visitors.

Covering every aspect and stage of work, Build Expo Greece will showcase the most modern products and services, focused on bioclimatic construction and energy efficiency. Paints, insulation materials, cement products, window and door frames, marbles and stones, flooring, tiles, tools and equipment, construction machinery are just some of the categories that will be displayed in the exhibition halls.

As a platform that encourages entrepreneurship and business extroversion, Build Expo Greece continues to invest in its international and B2B character. By attracting major construction companies from Southeastern Europe and the Eastern Mediterranean, as well as from other regions of high market importance, Build Expo Greece provides exhibitors with the opportunity to expand their network of partnerships and promote their business abroad.

In addition to presenting a plethora of exhibits and services, Build Expo Greece also provides visitors with the expertise to handle new technologies, both as products and services. With parallel events featuring official bodies and distinguished professionals, the exhibition serves as a centre for education and opens up new perspectives on construction and architectural trends.

With consistency and professionalism, Build Expo Greece is the ultimate destination for every professional of the sector. By offering business opportunities that build success, the exhibition is the industry's celebration that no one should miss!
